LR Health & Beauty Systems of Ahlen, Germany (owned by Apax Partners)
in legal conflict including death threats

Former distributor of LR Health & Beauty Systems (LR) receives dead animal through mail, as persuasion to call of process against Apax Partners & LR.

When former LR distributor Mrs. Irene Furre (from Norway) received a dead animal in the mail, apparently to persuade her to give in against global investment fund Apax Partners and one of its companies, LR Health & Beauty Systems, Norwegian police immediately started an investigation, based on what they deemed a death threat.

CEO of LR, Dr. Jens Abend, promised all the help he could give, and where given all information regarding the package.

Yet after three weeks, nothing has come of it.

We have a hard time believing anyone at Apax or LR are behind this. Still, the death threat is a fact. It should be in the interest of both LR and Apax to rule out any suspicion towards employees within their organizations.

We now demand action in this matter. Someone within the organization, or someone close to the organization is behind this hideous attack on Mrs. Furre. We call on LR and Apax to do their utmost to help uncover the truth.
